Canadian Legion Pays Tribute To Coleman's Young Veterans At Smoker Monday Evening

(Contributed)

The first of a series of smokers and banquets, which are to be held in Coleman over a period of time to welcome our boys home, was held in the Canadian Legion club room on Monday evening. The Legion staff, headed by our old warrior George Derbyshire, left nothing undone to give our celebration a good start. Over one hundred were in attendance.

There were 42 special invitations sent out to the young Vets now in town to be the guests of Vets of other days. They responded and so our smoker got under way.

One minute's silence for our departed comrades was observed.

In his opening remarks, Sid. Short, our genial chairman, told the young Vets that their Vets was much easier than that found by the old Vets when they came home in so far that there is a soldiers' organization built up to look after their interests which the old Vets did not have. Also the sympathy of the general public was more with them than in the days of 1918. When a soldier tried to talk of the Somme, Vimy, Ypres, Passchendaele, nobody but his own comrades would listen to him; today, however, when the boys talk of Caen and Falaise, everyone wants to listen.

He asked the young veterans not to think their problems were different from those of the first war, but to join the present soldiers' organization and do all they could to keep it a live issue.

Comrade Derbyshire, president of the Coleman branch, spoke along the same lines as the chairman, asking the young soldiers to roll up their sleeves and take over the work that Vets of other days have been carrying on and making their first job the erection of a memorial to our lads who did not come back. He made it quite plain that the money had to be raised for this purpose as soon as possible.

Wilbur Cox responded for the young soldiers and thanked the Vets and general public for making the task of the young soldier much easier through their parcels of cigarettes, etc.

Other soldiers who spoke were Sam Gillies, Lewis Brown, Joe McIntyre, Roy Foster, Ivor Morgan, G. Burtinik and Doug. Moores. The latter is the only one so far that is taking an active part in the Coleman branch and had nothing but praise for the manner in which it was being run and advised the young Vets to jump in and give the old Vets a rest.

R. R. Pattinson, honorary vice-president, advised the young soldiers to get into harness right away and take over.

J. J. McIntyre welcomed the boys home. He spoke of the joy and happiness that war's end had brought to many homes and to have their loved ones home again. He also spoke on the problems of finding our returned soldiers suitable employment and stated it was the duty of the general public to do everything in its power to see that the soldier had a job and that the coal companies would do all they could to help. He stated that the young soldiers should be given every assistance to pick up where they left off before being to fight for their country.

Program

Dancing. Dolls, A. Anderson and W. Jenkins, assisted by Jack Anderson with his accordion; Tom Hill, violin; Wm. Smith, song; H. Drew, song; A. McCulloch, song.

Jimmy Anderson told of one day Monty was going up the line, he stopped at a crossroads and asked the MP on duty where he could find the Canadians. The MP said, "Sir, just follow the chicken feathers." Jimmy gave credit to both old and young Vets for doing a good job.

The program could have lasted well into the night, but with other good things in the offing a halt at a reasonable hour was called. Each young soldier was introduced by the chairman and the audience sang "For They Are Jolly Good Fellows."

FOSS BOULTON STILL INTERESTED IN THE OLD HOME TOWN

In sending a change of address Foss Boulton still thinks of the old Home Town which will ever be home to him no matter where his position in life may take him.

His note reads:

We certainly look forward to receiving The Journal—it is like one day of being in Coleman with the old gang and doing the old things. I guess you notice the old town growing older, but when you have been away for a few years you don't seem to know anyone but the older ones, as the ones who were kids are now young men and women—but that is life.

We will be looking forward to seeing Jimmy Slugg this winter. Coleman will be really proud of him.

Give my best to all the gang in Coleman. Cheerio.

PROGRESS BEING MADE AT MEMORIAL PARK

Marked progress is being made at the Canadian Legion Memorial Park during the past two weeks.

The three bowling alleys have been trimmed and look quite nice. Additional loads of soil have been hauled in and placed east of the bowling alleys where it has been levelled. An artistic concrete wall is being constructed at the eastern half of the park, but it is not definitely known just how this portion of the park will be laid out. It is quite possible, however, that it will be mostly lawn with patches of flower beds. A number of lilacs will be placed alongside the wire fence in the near future.

The work is being done by only a few men and they are to be congratulated on their fine efforts.

Splendid Response Given To Clothing Drive

Ladies Still Busy Packing Clothes; Fifteen Hundred Pounds Shipped First Day.

Coleman's National Clothing Drive appears to be an unqualified success. On Monday a fleet of trucks were on the job bright and early and manned by crews numbering three and four men to a truck, bundles of clothing were picked up throughout the town and district.

Many ladies were present at the main street depot and worked diligently throughout the day packing 41 cases of clothes weighing 1523 pounds.

Mrs. T. B. Smith, in charge of the depot, reports that some exceptionally fine clothing has been collected. The ladies have been busy every day this week and on Wednesday afternoon clothing was still stacked in large piles.

Possibly all clothing bundles have not been collected and should some citizens have bundles in readiness or find some pieces of clothing that have been missed in the first clean-up they are asked to give them to their grocery truck driver who will be only too pleased to bring it to the main street depot.

Sub-depots are still being operated, they being:

Office, McGillivray Creek Coal & Coke Co.

West Coleman School.

Bobbitt's Store.

Toppano's Store.

Roman Catholic Hall.

United Church Club Room.

Coleman School, High School.

East Coleman Grocery.

There will be a meeting of the executive of the clothing drive in the council chamber on Tuesday, Oct. 16, at 7:30 p.m.

Once the drive has been completed a full report on its success will be published.

COLEMAN LIONS TO HOLD CHARTER NIGHT BALL OCTOBER 19

Coleman Lions club will sponsor its fifth charter night ball at Turtle Mountain Playgrounds on Friday evening, Oct. 19.

Invitations have already been mailed and a good crowd is expected to be in attendance. There will be a buffet supper midway through the dance as well as guest artists to highlight the program.

Send to the utmost.

WORLD BASEBALL SERIES CREATED EXCITEMENT

The world baseball series concluded yesterday created widespread interest in Coleman. Added interest was given the series by the three pools operated in town. One in particular drew heavy support and on Wednesday it totalled $180. Mike Kubica who won this handsome amount is to be congratulated on a good day's work.

This particular pool is thought to have been the largest ever won in a world series pool in Coleman.

Coleman To Raise Welcome Home Fund

At a recent meeting of the Coleman Reception and Rehabilitation Committee it was decided that funds would be necessary for the proper functioning of the committee. The Entertainment committee and the War Brides' committee advised that they would like to welcome our returning men and women and the war brides who are to come in a manner which would truly indicate the appreciation of our citizens.

The people of the district have stood behind our men and women while they were overseas and now that they are returning they should be welcomed in a royal manner. It was felt that each wage earner would gladly assess himself $1 and that the business and professional people would contribute their share for this purpose.

A committee under the chairmanship of Mr. W. Smith was chosen to secure the necessary finances. It is proposed to give all employers, employees and business establishments, as well as other individuals and societies, an opportunity to contribute to this fund.

Requests will be made for employers to interview their employees and so assist the finance committee in its work. It was suggested that each employee could and will contribute $1 to the fund. It was also the opinion of the committee that the business people of the town would rally to the support of this fund as well or better than they have to similar appeals in the past.

Most of the clubs and societies in the community have already been approached for contributions. However, it is felt that some organizations have been overlooked and that some of those that had already contributed might wish to increase their donations.

It is possible that contributions to this fund would come under the terms of the War Charities Act and that such donations would be deductible from income for income tax purposes. The committee is securing the necessary information and an announcement will be made later.

Come on Coleman — Help Welcome the Boys with a strong "Welcome Home Fund."

U.M.W.A. Executive Instructs Members To Return To Work Following Changes In Meat Rationing

UMWA Executive Instructs Members to Return to Work Following "Changes in Meat Rationing."

Decision to end the coal miners' strike in Alberta and British Columbia over meat rationing was reached Tuesday at a meeting of the executive of District 18, United Mine Workers of America. Following the meeting, Angus J. Morrison, secretary, issued the following statement:

"The executive board of District 18, United Mine Workers of America, at a meeting held Monday and Tuesday agreed to instruct the membership to return to work and terminate the present strike.

"There have been some changes from the original meat rationing order which place certain meats in Category E, which means increased supply per coupon value. This will apply to meat coupons all across Canada.

"There are also arrangements being made concerning cooked meats for lunch buckets, which was a grievous issue with the mine workers.

"Wires have been sent to the secretaries of all local unions in District 18, instructing the membership to return to work and meetings will be addressed by the officers and members of the board reporting all details."

In Coleman and throughout local of District 18 meetings are being held this afternoon to hear details of the proposed concessions made by the Wartime Prices & Trade Board to the miners' demands.

In Coleman Tom McCloy will address the meeting being held in the Community hall at 2:30 today and will give a detailed statement of what has transpired to cause the executive Board to ask the miners to return to work. Following Mr. McCloy's report it will then be up to the miners to decide whether or not they will return to work.

Cadet Corps To Be Organized In Coleman

Meeting to be Held in Community Hall Next Thursday; Many Interesting Courses in the Syllabus.

An effort will be made this coming week to organize an Army Cadet Corps in Coleman. On Tuesday Capt. W. Fenny, of MD 13, was in town and along with Lieut. M. W. Cooke interviewed a number of citizens.

As a result of their work on Tuesday it was decided to hold a meeting of all interested in the Community hall next Thursday evening, Oct. 18, at 7:30. Boys between the ages of 12 and 18 are asked to be present at the meeting along with parents and others who may be interested. Speaker will be either Capt. Fenny or Capt. J. Kerr, of MD 13, who was in Coleman earlier this year. A movie projector and films will be brought from Calgary to give the audience an insight as to what the training syllabus includes.

The following subjects are included in the syllabus: Fieldcraft, knots and lashings, first aid, signalling, map reading, small arms training, woodcraft, skiing, internal combustion engine, field engineering.

Tex. Larrimore Awarded D.F.C.; Coleman's Sixth

Won the Award When Holding Rank of Warrant Officer.

Coleman can now boast of six Distinguished Flying Cross winners, with the announcement from Ottawa on Oct. 8 that Pilot Officer J. L. "Tex" Larrimore had been awarded the DFC.

Tex won the award when only a Warrant Officer. It is some time now since he was promoted to Pilot Officer as he held that rank when he returned from overseas this summer.

Tex worked for many years at The Motordrome and became well known and generally liked for his quiet, soft spoken manner and friendly grin. He left The Motordrome to enlist in the RCAF, going overseas. While overseas he completed two tours.

His citation reads: WO J. L. Larrimore has completed numerous operations against the enemy in the course of which he has displayed the utmost fortitude, courage and devotion to duty.

The Text Explained With Comments
Religious Training in the Hebrew Home, Deuteronomy 6:4-9. Hear, O Israel: Jehovah our Jehovah is one. Jehovah. "These words form the beginning of what is termed 'Shema' (Hear) in the Jewish service, and belong to the duty of morning and evening office. They may indeed be termed the creed of the Jews. Their expression is in the original singularity terse and forcible. 'Jehovah our Jehovah, Jehovah one.' The last letter of the first and last words of this verse are written larger than the ordinary size; together they form a word signifying 'witness.' It is uncertain how this difference in writing originated. It is customary for the Jewish commentators as highly significant, and is held to impart that the utterance of this verse is to be accompanied by a witness of the truth, or that God is a witness of the sincerity and earnestness of him who utters it." (T. E. Epstein, in Speakers' Commentary).

Now follows what Jesus called "the first and great commandment." These words shall be in thy heart, never to be forgotten; they must be taught to the children, made a matter of conversation at all times, "pricked in" by repetition and emphasis. They were to be bound for a sign upon the hand and the brow and written on the posts of the house and on the gates.

Jesus' Life as a Boy in the Home, Luke 2:51, 52. The last verses of the second chapter of Luke give us the only glimpse we have of Jesus in the years between infancy and thirty years of age, when at twelve years of age he made his visit to the temple at Jerusalem and then returned with his parents to Nazareth, obedient to them. There he developed normally, growing physically, mentally and spiritually.

Tea In Tablet Form

New Process Is Being Tested By London Organization

The London "Union of Ceylon Tea Planters" have recently received the first "tea tablets" which should considerably simplify and cheapen production of tea. They are the result of a process based on long years of experiments carried out by the "Ceylon Tea Research Institute", which reduces the time required in producing tea from 24 hours to 2 hours. By means of this process—known as "P.F.C."—the tea is made into compressed tablets which saves shipping space. The tablet-form tea is also about 50 per cent. stronger than tea in its ordinary form, and allows for a reduction in price. The London organization is now going to undertake further tests and experiments with the tea tablets—Cornwall Standard-Freelander.

THE SCOTS

They Just Close In Around Us Like The Tide

By Bruce Hutchison
(Courtesy "Victoria Times")

The Legislature of British Columbia has lately displayed a distressing ignorance of us Scots. Mrs. Laura Jamieson, M.L.A., says that Canada has not yet assimilated either the Japanese or the descendants of the wild Highlanders who, a few centuries ago, offered human sacrifices on stone mounds in Scotland. The fact, of course, is that we Scots have not quite assimilated the Canadians yet. But we will. Give us a little more time.

On the whole, I feel that we have treated the Canadians with a fine tolerance, and a minimum of racial prejudice. We always employed them, at reasonable rates, since the earliest days. We hired them to paddle our fur-trade canoes, and we played our haggies all day to encourage their labors. When we built our railways we always employed the Canadian to lay the track and haul the gravel. We never held their birth against them when it came to giving them jobs. But small thanks have we received from Canadians like Mrs. Jamieson.

Nay, we introduced the Canadians to our most sacred rite. We taught them to drink our whisky. Under its mellow influence the Canadians have sometimes risen almost to our level, even members of the British Columbia Legislature. And if, as Mrs. Jamieson alleges, there has been a falling off in Canadian culture lately, you can blame the present wartime shortage of the essentials of a cultured life.

How patiently we have toiled to uplift the Canadians to our level! Not by pressing our culture upon them, but by dictation from the top like the Germans, but by the fine example of humility from the bottom. Never by word or hint do we suggest our superiority. We go about this country as if we were merely Canadian ourselves, asking no recognition and no favors, just letting our Scotch ooze quietly into the veins of society, and glad to let it ooze into ours whenever we are invited.

And how modestly we do display, almost with apologetic humility, the torch of our genius, so that the barbarian in the far wasteland may strive for a moment, and perhaps attain to a better thing. We have never sought to force our language upon these races. We talk the Gaelic only among ourselves. We do not compel the schools to teach it. We do not demand bilingualism as well we might.

And the Canadian is even free to reject the haggis. We merely present the great chieftain of the puddin' race, and the Canadian can partake of its glory or not as he pleases. If he prefers his crude native dishes, we sigh a little, but we do not protest. We only pity him.

In politics we are equally humble. It is well known that we have been managing the nation's business since the Battle of the Plains. That we have supplied most of the Prime Ministers of Canada and a majority of the Cabinet Ministers, and the House of Commons has always been under our control. But we have never been corrupted by power. We take other races into our cabinets, and we let them hold all but the highest posts. If there special talents are required. We never called ourselves the Master Race. We didn't have to.

Could any conquerors be more kind and humane? Does human history hold the record of any dominant race which treated the lesser breeds so compassionately? We are a modest, quiet, unobtrusive people, content to hold our innocent banquets and outdoor sports, to play our pipes in secret, and wear the kilts on rare occasions, while most of the time we carry the awful responsibility of the country on our backs without complaining.

It may take us some time to assimilate all the Canadians, particularly the Jamiesons, but we are patient. We can wait. And in due time, when they are ready for it, we intend, by statute law, to grant the Canadians equality of status with us and to share the burdens of Government with them.

Competition Keen

Railways And Airlines Are Making Strong Bid For Patronage

That airplanes have finally reached a point where their rates are lower than rail-plus-Pullman on longer journeys is not surprising. The trend has been in that direction for some time. With aviation achieving a degree of safety which compares favorably with that of railroads, rail managers are under new pressures to devise steps to hold their first-class patronage. Lower rates and faster schedules are one step in that direction; better service and free meals on certain trains (as airlines serve) might be others. Reserved seats in more day coaches (last airlines even compete with coach travel) is yet another possibility. Competition promises to be even keener within a few months. Christian Science Monitor.

TWO WAYS OF LOOKING AT IT!

The Canadian Shield Much-Needed Outpost

The Interesting Question Is, What Is The Canadian Shield?

Here is the answer which the geologists of the Royal Ontario Museum give to this question. It is an area of ancient rocks that underlies about one-half of Canada. It is called a shield because it has in a broad way the shape of a low dome with rocks around its rim. It is thus something like the old-fashioned shield carried by warriors. The rocks run in age from about two billion years to 500 million years and it required about three-quarters of all geological time for them to form. The Shield was, in ancient times, a land of numerous and large volcanoes, it had great mountains and violent earthquakes, but the mountains and volcanoes have been worn away to mere stumps of their former grandeur by rain, streams and glacial action. In contrast to the early conditions, this great area is now free from earthquakes than any other area of its size in the world. There are relics of much primitive life, mainly plants. In the Shield, but few fossils of animals. It is one of the great sources of metals because of an abundance of igneous rocks, but it lacks coal and oil which were not formed until later times.

Rocks like those of the Shield underlie much of North America and if one drilled deep enough on the prairies or in southern Ontario such rocks would be found under the sediments.

INTERESTCOMMON COLD AFFECTS MORE WOMEN THAN MEN

The common cold affects more women than men, and hits office employees much harder than factory workers, according to a two-year study conducted by Joseph H. Kler, M.D., of New Brunswick, N.J.

Dr. Kler's report, appearing in a recent issue of Archives of Otolaryngology, published by the American Medical Association, covers basic and detailed facts about the occurrence of the common cold in industry which, he said, is responsible for more than one-third of the total number of days lost in American factories.

The study, among other things, disclosed that:

There is a definite pattern to the incidence of colds, with the highest peak in December and the lowest in July;

There is a definite correlation between temperature and the onset of colds, every sudden drop in temperature being followed in a day or two by a rise in the number of colds;

The highest incidence of colds was found in the age group 20 to 29 years and the lowest in the age group above 50 years. However, the percentage of time-losing colds increased with age;

There were more colds among women than among men;

There were consistently more colds among office workers than among factory workers;

There were fewer colds in air conditioned plants, with the incidence of colds highest in drafty places.

More colds start on Monday than on any other day of the week, this being especially true of colds among men;

There is an important factor, with the incidence and severity of colds lowest among those whose work necessitates walking about most of the time;

Smoking apparently has little effect on colds.

MUST BE GREAT LIFE

The Toronto Star says when a Prime Minister has elderly men in his Cabinet, his critics say they are a lot of old fogies. But when they die or retire, his critics say he has lost his experienced colleagues. And if they are replaced by younger men, his critics say that they are green hands who don't know the jobs they are expected to handle. It must be a great life, being a Prime Minister.

OUR COMPLETE SHORT STORY—

Uncle Dudley's Race

By H. F. VASEY

McClure Newspaper Syndicate

"I'm an old fool if ever there was one," mumbled Uncle Dudley. "Should have had sense enough to keep my mouth shut. Well—I've got to go through with it now." He shook his head sadly.

Uncle Dudley was lean, but tough and wiry even though close to seventy, with hair white as a pie-bald's spots. The boys were in him too, and a capacity for quick thinking. Not one of the county's sturdiest citizens, Dudley lived from hand to mouth in a fashion deplored by the ladies of the Uplift Society.

His own passion was walking. He counted the day lost if he did not get in at least ten miles of lively hocking across the country. When he was not tramping he sat in the local pool hall, tilted back in a chair and listening. The boys were discussing the merits of Ma Peddler's pies one day when Jed Whetter rode by on his pinto mare.

"There goes the speediest little mare in this county," Jim Lake declared. "Ain't nothin' can outrun Daisy hereabouts."

"Guess you're right," Dave Massey said.

"Fretty little beast, too," chimed in Pop Walters, shifting his two hundred and forty pounds to a more comfortable position. "She ain't big, but she shure has got action. Aye, siree!"

"Sure, an' it's little the competition she'll be gettin' around here," Mike broke in. "I'm thinkin' that few men would wager a cart-wheel on a hundred-yard dash against that little filly!"

"Huh! I don't think she's so good as all that," spoke up Uncle Dudley. "Why," he chuckled, "give me twenty-five yards and I could beat her in a hundred-yard dash myself!" A great burst of laughter answered him.

"Sure, your senses have deserted you, Dudley, me boy," said Mike. Dudley spoke sharply. He could never stand being laughed at. "Not at all! I'd do it tomorrow, if only at all! I'd show you doddling old blather-skites that there's one member in this rickety club who hasn't got both feet in the grave!"

"Bravo, Uncle Dudley!" broke in Jim Bulger, who sensed a fine bit of fun. "I'll be your handler, and see Jed right away. Let's put it off until county fair day. Boy! Will this be a race?" And so it was decided. Quickly the news spread to all parts of the village. The contest promised to be the big feature of the county fair. The ladies of the Uplift Society protested that to mix man and beast in such a race was a sin and a disgrace. The fair officials, thinking of their gate receipts, protested that the ladies of the Uplift Society were wrong. The whole county gradually resolved itself into two camps—Dudleyites and anti-Dudleyites. Arguments ran wild and free.

The morning of the fair dawned bright and clear. The sun blazed on a huge red-lettered sign: "Despite rumors to the contrary, the race will be run as scheduled at four this afternoon."

By ten o'clock the crowd had already become larger than any of the delighted fair officials had known. And still they came! New cars and jolopies; democrats and two-wheeled carts. The Dudleyites came in loyal numbers. The anti-Dudleyites came, not to see the race—oh, no!—but to be witnesses of the Dudleyites in their shameful pleasures.

Uncle Dudley, lion of the day, remained calm, stoically hiding his inner perturbation behind his lean plainsman's mask. He walked about the fair grounds surrounded by little boys grinning in open-mouthed admiration. After futilely trying to shoot them off he finally accepted the inevitable and proceeded on his way, a tall island upended in a sea of bright young faces.

Dudley's dinner was passed from hand to hand piecemeal from the distant shores to the centre of the island, and if it lost somewhat of the fair grounds surrounded by little boys grinning in open-mouthed admiration. After futilely trying to shoot them off he finally accepted the inevitable and proceeded on his way, a tall island upended in a sea of bright young faces.

Four o'clock arrived at last. For hours the track fence had been lined with spectators. Now they pressed in deeper than ever, threatening to break it down. Sideshows were deserted, display buildings empty, the grandstand grained and creaked. Dudley, rescued by force from his benchmen, was conducted to the track. Dudleyites and anti-Dudleyites mingled freely, antipathies forgotten in the excitement of the final moment. Daisy was ready to ride. Her silky tail blew out like a pennant in the breeze as she minced nervously about the line.

"Ready!" the judge called. Dudley nodded and jammed his toe into the hole he had scraped out on the twenty-five yard line. Crouched down for a start he looked like a scarecrow which the wind had blown over. "Bang!" went the shot.

With a leap Dudley was away and the hoof beats behind him were drowned out in the great yell that rose from the watchers. Like an ungainly jack-rabbit he went, taking strides that covered two yards at a bound. Ragged coat-tails flew, feet barely touched the ground as he crossed the fifty yard line. A sound behind him made him turn his head. He couldn't be, surely! Yes, Daisy was right at his heels! Vainly he tried for an extra burst of speed.

The seventy-five yard line flew by—and so did Daisy, so close he could have touched her. The wind whipped her tail to one side and it flicked Dudley sharply in the eyes. Water streamed out of them, almost blinding him. That was the final insult to injured vanity. Dudley's capacity for quick thinking came to the fore. He recalled that Daisy was very sensitive about that beautiful tail of hers. He'd show her that she couldn't make fun of him before the whole countryside! With a lucky lunge he caught the offending tail in both hands, giving it a tremendous sideways jerk that shook Daisy from stem to stern.

With a squeal of annoyance Daisy jammed on all four brakes, sliding to a full stop and throwing her rider head over heels. Her own heels lifted high in the air hoping to come in contact with her annoyance. He, however, was well on his way by this time, and a whoop of delight arose from his followers as Uncle Dudley hopped madly across the finish line.

Grinning from ear to ear, he was raised to the shoulders of his cries and carried triumphantly from the track, while his admirers howled in glee. Dudley's rider picked himself up from the dust and sheepishly led his mount away.

The race was won! The anti-Dudleyites were completely routed, that is, all but Daisy. She stood in her stall contentedly munching cats, wholly unaware that her reputation had been lost.

Pharmacy Advancement

Scholarships Planned For Canadian Pharmacy Students

The initial step in a nationwide program to raise the standards and acceptance of pharmacy in Canada was taken at the first meeting of the Board of Directors of the Canadian Foundation for the Advancement of Pharmacy held in Montreal, recently. Plans for the raising of funds and their long-term use were outlined by President J. R. Kennedy.

"Scholarships are but one immediate phase of the Foundation's long range plans, however," Mr. Kennedy stated. "It is hoped that the whole standards of Canadian Pharmacy and the public's understanding of this profession will be raised. The local pharmacist plays an important part in maintaining the welfare of his community. He is the doctor's partner in maintaining public health. Too often he is not given credit for his part he plays. Last year Canadian Pharmacists dispensed more than 14 million prescriptions, quite apart from those dispensed in hospitals and by doctors themselves."

The Foundation will also help establish Extension Classes for graduate pharmacists to keep them abreast of newest developments in all parts of the country. Committee chairman was: Committee on contributions, Mr. H. L. Schade, Windsor; committee on Pharmaceutical Education and Research, Dr. A. W. Matthews, Edmonton; committee on Professional Relations and Extension Services, Mr. V. E. Hessel, Toronto; secretary, Mr. A. E. Lavery, Montreal.

MEAT STRETCHING RECIPES

MEAT PATIES

2 cups corn flakes
1/2 cup water or milk
1 pound ground beef
1/2 teaspoons salt
1/2 teaspoon pepper
Crush corn flakes slightly. Add other ingredients; mix well. Shape into patties. Fry or broil, cooking 7-10 min. on each side. Or until well browned, or bake in hot oven (450 deg. F.) about 25 minutes. Yield: 6 patties (about 2 1/2 inches in diameter, 3/4 inch thick). Note: Add chopped onion or other seasoning, as desired.

MEAT LOAF

4 cups corn flakes
2 eggs, slightly beaten
1/2 cup water or milk
2 teaspoons salt
1/2 teaspoon pepper
1 teaspoon Worcestershire Sauce
1 cup chopped parsley
1 tablespoon chopped onion
1 1/2 pounds ground beef
1/2 pound ground pork or sausage
Crush corn flakes; add other ingredients; mix thoroughly. Pack lightly in loaf pan. Bake in moderately hot oven (425 deg. F.) 50-60 minutes. Yield: 1 loaf (4 1/2 x 9 1/2 inch pan) - 8 servings.

STUFFED MEAT LOAF

Stuffing
1/2 cup diced celery
1 cup chopped onion
1 cup fat
1 cup cooked rice
2 tablespoons minced parsley
1 teaspoon poultry seasoning
1 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup stock or water
3 cups rice krispies
Brown celery and onion in fat; stir in rice, parsley, seasonings and stock and mix well. Crush rice krispies into coarse crumbs; stir into rice mixture.

Meat Mixture

1 pound ground beef
1/2 pound ground veal or sausage
2 tablespoons finely minced onion
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon celery salt
1/2 teaspoon pepper
2 teaspoons Worcestershire sauce
1/2 cup tomato sauce or puree
Combine meats with onion and seasonings; except tomato sauce. Flatten on piece of waxed paper into rectangular shape about 3 1/2 inch in thickness. Stuff stuffing on top of meat and form into roll. Bring meat up and around roll of stuffing so that it is completely covered. Place in loaf pan. Pour tomato sauce over roll and bake in moderate oven (375 deg. F.) about one hour. Yield: Eight servings. Note: Stuffing may be pressed lightly into baking pan and meat spread on top. Bake same as stuffed loaf (8 x 8 inch pan).

Fish and Game Notes

(A.W.)

Editor's Note: Coleman Fish & Game Association have protested most strongly against the open season on Elk in the Pincher Creek area. The following letter was drafted by Secretary Jim Kerr to the Fish & Game Commissioner, Edmonton. The Commissioner's reply is also published.

Coleman, Sept. 1, 1945.
Mr. E. S. Huestis,
Fish & Game Commissioner,
Edmonton, Alta.
Dear Sir:

Since reading press reports on the Game Regulations for the 1945-46 season, I have talked with a number of local sportsmen who are interested in Big Game in this south-western corner of the province.

All sportsmen contacted are of the opinion that a serious mistake has been made in regard to the open season for Elk in the Pincher Creek area.

I will endeavor to give you the views of local sportsmen in this regard. The season is too long, the bag limit is too large, and the lifting of restrictions on females is not warranted. The poacher is now given a wonderful chance to hunt other game all winter, under the pretence of hunting Elk, just the same as the fellow who is always hunting rabbits although most of the rabbits he kills are feathered.

I think that I realize, why the long open season on elk has been granted. Am I right in saying that it is due to the loss of a few hay stacks in the extreme south end of the district?

From reports we hear I do believe that some hay is eaten up by elk, and there is a good reason for this, the area wrongly called a Game Reserve, is overgrazed all summer and fall by domestic stock, consequently the game must move to the ranch country for winter food, the rancher then demands that an unlimited open season be granted to slaughter elk, but the curious part about it all is, that as soon as the season is opened, his fence suddenly becomes decorated with No Shooting signs. Some of us wonder if a considerable amount of this posted land is not Crown land, and held under a grazing lease only, and whether or not they have the right to post it.

Actually the area which most of us are interested in is not the extreme south end of the Pincher Creek district, but that covered by the following watersheds: Carbondale River, Lost Creek, Lynx Creek, Jackson Creek, Ptolmey Creek, York Creek, Lyon Creek, Screw-driver Creek, Byron Creek and Beaver Mines Creek. This area now contains a good number of elk, and this year's crop of calves is exceptionally good, but what will happen if the regulations are not changed will be that a large number of females will be shot, and the calves, which are not weaned until late in the winter will be left to starve.

I will give you a suggestion that I believe will help our local situation greatly, and still not change the regulations in the extreme southern end of the Pincher Creek area: Enlarge the Livingstone-Highwood area so as to take in the watersheds I have mentioned, the southern boundary of which would be the Carbondale River down stream to where it intersects the boundary of the game preserve, thence south and east along the reserve line to Beaver Mines Creek, thence down stream to the eastern boundary of the area, or perhaps it might be easier to make the main road from Pincher Creek to Elk Lodge the southern boundary. This arrangement would allow our local elk and other game some measure of protection and still the ranchers in the south end would not be deprived of elk meat to feed their pigs.

I will give you an example of what effect long seasons have on other game not on the open list. Last week while out for a ride on horseback I met a man armed with a high-powered rifle and a big knife. I asked him what he was hunting for, he informed me that he was bear hunting. I asked him what good a bear hide would be to him at this time of the year, his answer was that all he wanted was enough bear grease to grease his boots. His story was perhaps good enough to get by a law enforcement officer, but I have been seeing quite a few deer in this locality all summer, but lately some of the does have lost their fawns.

I am sure that the majority of our local sportsmen do not want to see our elk thinned out to such an extent that no open season could be declared next year, and I am sure that your department does not want that either. There is still plenty of time to make an amendment to the regulations before the opening date.

Yours very truly,

James R. Kerr.

P.S. As I am often asked for information on game matters, I would greatly appreciate receiving a copy of The Game Act & Regulations for the season 1945-46.

Edmonton, Sept. 8, 1945.
Mr. James R. Kerr,
Coleman, Alberta.

Dear Sir:

I wish to acknowledge receipt of your letter of September 1 giving your views in regard to the season on elk in the Pincher Creek area this year.

I have read with a good deal of interest the information you have presented and this will be passed on to our Advisory Council. I might explain that all changes in the Regulations are carefully discussed at meetings of our Advisory Council on which are representatives of the Alberta Fish and Game Association, fur dealers, farmers, Indians, the University and the Department.

I enclose herewith a copy of the Game Regulations for 1945-46 as requested.

Yours faithfully,

E. S. Huestis.

GAZETTE STAFF HONORS
MRS. J. H. S. MOFFITT

Mrs. J. Ryan and Mrs. L. O'Brien entertained at a tea on Sunday in honor of Mrs. J. H. S. Moffitt. Mrs. R. R. Pattinson, of Coleman, and Mrs. A. Haysom, of Bellevue, sisters of Mrs. Moffitt, were invited guests.

A presentation dinner was held at the home of Mrs. Richard Jones on Wednesday evening by the staff members of the Gazette, to honor Mrs. J. H. S. Moffitt on her departure for Auckland, New Zealand. Mrs. Moffitt was presented with a piece of costume jewelry and expressed her appreciation for the honor shown her.

Misses Ilo and Mary Stewart were hostesses on Wednesday evening, honoring Miss Violet MacGregor and Mrs. J. H. S. Moffitt. Violet has just returned to Macleod after a year spent in Chicago. Mrs. Moffitt will leave Wednesday for Vancouver to sail from there for New Zealand. The guests of honor were presented with corsages of roses and Mrs. Moffitt was the recipient of a souvenir photograph album with snaps of her friends.—Macleod Gazette.

David Smith Writes From Germany

The Journal is in receipt this week of a copy of "Canoe," a paper published by the 126 Wing, RCAF, at Uetersen, Germany, and is the only Canadian newspaper in Germany. The copy received from Dave was the third issue. It is printed in 8 pages, 8 1/2 x 12, and contains many fine pictures of RCAF buildings and RCAF activities in that area of Germany. Dave asks that you do not take the stories too seriously.

His letter reads:

This is a pretty fair portrayal of our life over here although, admittedly, they have overdone some parts. For instance my memory can only recall once that we ever had ice cream for dessert and I've been on this station since the first day. It is, however, a lovely set-up and compares in many ways with aidrooms I've been on at home.

We are just north of Hamburg and go into the city often. It would do some of the Vets' hearts a world of good to see the job the fellows have done to der Paderland this time. I am pretty sure they will be very hesitant about starting another war.

Well, thought you might be interested in this bit of Canada from Germany; so hoping this finds you and the rest of the people of Coleman in the best of health.

Dave Smith.

Theatre Notes

"BREWSTER'S MILLIONS"

The hilarious film comedy, "Brewster's Millions," playing at the Palace theatre Saturday, deals with the always entertaining task of spending a million dollars. Most of us only dream of such a luxurious proposition, but Monty Brewster, played by Dennis O'Keefe, actually realizes this dream.

Blessed with an inheritance of eight million dollars, Monty is at first delirious with joy. So are his close friends. But this exhilarating state does not last very long, for Monty is also confronted with a clause in his eccentric uncle's will which demands that he spend one million dollars, to the last cent, within two months' time. Only then will he inherit the remaining seven millions. Thinking that it will be a cinch to spend this amount, Monty indulges in every whim he ever had and quite a number that he suddenly acquires.

One hilarious situation follows the other, with Monty deep in the business of throwing around a million dollars, without actually giving any to charity or acquiring any permanent assets, according to the letter of the will. How he eventually gets away with the whole ka-boodle, without going "nuts" in the process, provides the nucleus of as joyful comedy as has been seen in a month of Sundays.

WE'LL HAVE THE MONEY to pay the BILLS

LIKE thousands of other Canadians, farmers will welcome the 9th Victory Loan as another opportunity to save money to provide for future plans.

Victory Loans have provided an excellent means of helping the war effort, at the same time contributing to our own personal welfare.

Canada needs more money now . . . to make loans to foreign countries so that they can establish credits which will enable them to buy food and other things which they require.

This food will come from Canadian farms; these goods from Canadian factories. When we help to create markets for our farm produce abroad . . . and when we help to keep Canadian factories busy . . . we help to maintain good prices for the things that Canadian farms produce.

Victory Bonds also provide a reserve fund of working capital for our own use . . . so handy to have so many times. Any bank will buy Victory Bonds at any time, or loan money on Victory Bonds if we need cash.

. . . and for our future plans, we'll have the money required for things we want to do . . .

Get ready to buy more Victory Bonds this Fall. Buy double this time — the same rate of savings as in previous loans will pay for twice as many bonds over the 12 month period.

NATIONAL WAR FINANCE COMMITTEE

Farmers Can Buy Victory Bonds On Convenient Deferred Payments Through Any Bank

. . . just sign a short form letter which Victory Loan Salesmen carry (banks have copies) ordering the Bank to buy Victory Bonds for you. Pay 5% when ordering and the balance at any time during the next 12 months. The interest the bonds earn pays the interest on the bank loan.

Hong Kong Liberation

THE LIBERATION OF HONG KONG and its formal restoration to Britain added another chapter to the colorful history of that important commercial centre and naval base in the Far East. Its fall in December, 1941, was one of a number of defeats suffered by Britain, the United States and other Allied nations, during the opening months of Japan's campaign to defend it, and Canada's interest in its liberation and the release of prisoners of war captured there more than four years ago, was great. Two Canadians, Captain Wallace Creevy of the Royal Canadian Navy and Brigadier O. M. Kay, Canadian military attaché at Chungking, represented the Dominion in the signing of the Japanese surrender document, and the Canadian cruiser, Ontario, and the anti-aircraft cruiser, Prince Robert, were among the ships in the harbour which fired 21-gun salutes to mark the end of Japanese rule.

History Showed Steady Progress

Hong Kong includes Hong Kong Island, situated at the mouth of the Canton River, and Kowloon Peninsula, which is on the mainland, opposite the island. The capital city, Victoria, extends about five miles along the southern shore of the island. It is a Crown Colony, administered by a Governor, with Executive and Legislative Councils. In 1940, the civilian population was given as 1,071,883, of whom 1,047,768 were Chinese. The Colony was acquired by Britain from China in 1841, in exchange for Canton, where business houses had been established earlier by the British East India Company. Hong Kong was then almost a barren island, but from the time it was taken over by Britain until it fell to Japan in 1941, its history was one of steady progress and development. With the co-operation of the Chinese population, hospitals were established, and fine educational facilities, including schools, a teacher training college, an evening institute, and the University of Hong Kong were set up.

A Centre Of World Trade

Situated on one of the finest harbours in the world, with a water area of seventeen square miles, Hong Kong has docks capable of holding the largest types of ships. It is known as a centre of world commerce for China and other countries in the Far East, and its excellent harbour facilities have also made it an important military and naval base. In 1939 nearly fifteen and a half million tons of shipping entered Hong Kong harbour, which was a point of call for all steamers operating across the Pacific. It also had direct communications with the Americas, Europe, Australia and South Africa, through the Pacific Ocean, the Panama and Suez Canals, and the shipping lanes of the Atlantic Ocean. Like many other places which were under enemy control during the war, Hong Kong is now re-establishing peace-time institutions and resuming normal connections with the outside world.

Highland Regiments Cannot Have Kilt Until Material Is Available
The Scottish Command has pressed for the return of the kilt to the Highland regiments, and the British War Office took the matter under active consideration, reports the Edinburgh Scotsman. Major the Hon. H. M. Douglas Home, Public Relations Officer of the Scottish Command, said that at the moment the kilt was what might be termed a luxury dress, and his belief was that its return would not come until the essential clothing needs of the Armed Forces in Europe had first been met. The shortage of material and the scarcity of labor for the making of kilts, which was a special job, was a big problem to overcome.

Price Control And Rationing Information

Q.—Recently I purchased a house which is vacant. I now find that for certain personal reasons, I cannot move into the house for above six months. I wonder if you can tell me whether or not I can rent the property and yet be sure of possession again at the end of six months?

A.—You may rent the property for any definite period of five months or less and still be sure of gaining possession at the end of that period. The rental regulations provide that during any twelve-month period, the first lease of five months or less shall be exempt from the regulations as far as the termination of leases is concerned.

Q.—Will you kindly list the fancy meats which have been temporarily removed from the ration?

A.—The "fancy" meats which have been recently taken off the ration list are liver, heart, kidney, tongue, sweetbreads together with blood sausage.

Q.—Have all restrictions been removed on farm machinery?

A.—On September 28 all restrictions were lifted on farm machinery. However dealers will be expected to honour outstanding ration certificates before filling orders from new accounts.

Q.—My husband and I are leaving shortly to visit our daughter in the United States. What do we do about ration coupons?

A.—Ration points to cover the length of your visit in the United States will be issued to you by the Local War Price and Rationing Board in the district where your daughter lives.

Q.—Please send your questions or your request for the pamphlet "Consumers' News" or the Blue Book in which you keep track of your ceiling prices, mentioning the name of this paper to the nearest Wartime Prices and Trade Board office in our province.

Clothing Collection

Post Offices Across Canada Will Assist In Work As Receiving Depots

Postal Officials across Canada will form an important part of the machinery set up to collect used clothing during the National Clothing Collection for liberated countries which began on October 1st, as more than 12,400 Post Offices have been designated as receiving depots, particularly where local committees are not organized and there are no other depots established, it was announced at headquarters in Ottawa of the National Clothing Collection.

People in rural areas and out of the way places far from railroads and centres of population can take their gifts of used clothes to their nearest Post Office which will forward these to central warehouses of National Clothing Collection that have been established across the Dominion. But in cities and towns, people will be asked to use the central collection depots established by local committees instead of taking their gifts of clothing to Post Offices.

Thus this great humanitarian appeal which aims to accomplish a maximum of collection of serviceable used clothing for people of war-depleted lands will reach every home in Canada from the Pacific to the Atlantic and from the International Boundary to the Arctic, giving every man and woman an opportunity to participate in this great crusade. But it was pointed out that all people taking gifts of clothing to Post Offices should see that such garments are tied up in neat bundles and that all footwear, including shoes of any kind for men, women or children, should be securely tied in pairs so that there will be no loss in sorting or in shipping. The tying of footwear together in pairs was viewed by National Clothing Collection officials as extremely important to avoid wastage of goods, time and of effort.

MEET A CWAC—

Sgt. Ellen Christensen, Lethbridge, Sask., enlisted in the Canadian Women's Army Corps at Regina, in June, 1942. After her basic Training, she took a seven weeks' Clerk-Steno Refresher Course at Saskatoon, Sask. Returning to Regina, she was posted to the District CWAC Office as secretary to Capt. Fearey, District CWAC Officer. Promoted to the rank of corporal in '43, "Chris" attended a N.C.O. Course at St. Anne de Bellevue, Que. in the summer of 1944, being promoted to her present rank in '45. "We keep tab on all CWAC personnel," Sgt. Christensen explained, when asked about her work, "acting as advisor to the D.C.O. on all matters pertaining to the C.W., A.C. and as liaison between the C.W., A.C. companies and the District. "Chris" has two brothers in the service, one stationed at Chilliwack, B.C. and one still overseas.

ORGANIZATION OF C.W.A.C.

WOMEN'S AUXILIARY

Service to the women of the Canadian Army has been the goal of fourteen C.W.A.C. Women's Auxiliary which operate in nine military districts across Canada. Organized by small groups of "mothers and interested citizens", the groups have been set up with the approval of the Auxiliary Service Officer in each district. C.W.A.C. Social Service Officers act as the liaison between the women and the Army, acquainting the auxiliaries with the needs of the Corps. Variety has been the keynote of the auxiliaries' program. In addition to offering home hospitality and holding dances and picnics for the girls, individual auxiliaries have sewn curtains for barracks rooms, made uniforms for basketball teams, held bridge classes. The women in Military District No. 7, St. John, N.B., have organized their own rehabilitation program. They have invited all CWACs who are being discharged from the depot into their own homes for instruction in the fundamentals of home making and budgeting. Women's Auxiliaries are operating in Halifax, N.S.; St. John and Fredericton, N.B.; Ottawa, Kingston, Toronto, St. Catharines and Windsor, Ont.; Winnipeg, Man.; Regina, Sask.; Calgary, and Edmonton, Alta.; and Vancouver and Nanaimo, B.C.

CWAC POST WAR WORLD—

With V-E and V-J Days—ending things of the past, many CWACs are beginning to plan their "Back-to-Civilian-Life" days, and trying to visualize a no-Khaki, no Monday-morning parade, no haven—you-read-odders' world. There is a vast difference between the civilian way of life and the Army way of life. The girls, many just out of school, joined the Canadian Women's Army Corps met a national emergency; that emergency has been met and dealt with successfully, and now in the near future these same girls will be thrown back on their own responsibilities into civilian life. How are they going to meet it? It would be most unfair to turn them out into the civilian world without some preparation and advice on how to face the problems that will confront them. For this specific reason, each CWAC, before receiving her discharge, is interviewed by an Army Counsellor, who will help the discharges with any problems that have arisen or might arise. When the girls finally find themselves on "civvie street" there is always the Dept. of Veteran Affairs willing to lend a helping hand to all discharged personnel. The D.V.A. will be the link between the army life of the past and the civilian life of the future. Not all their post-war plans are of quite such a serious nature. Such things as "sleep in as long as I like", "brightly coloured nail polish, spike heels and fantastic earrings", are bound to sneak into the picture. But at any rate, the girls will have been taught to think before they leap into the not too far distant, mysterious, beckoning post-war future.

CANADA'S PEACE TIME AIR FORCE WILL HAVE BOMBER, FIGHTER AND TRANSPORT UNITS

OTTAWA.—Canada's peace time air force will consist of between 15,000 and 20,000 personnel and will have bomber, fighter and transport squadrons and the necessary auxiliary units, Hon. J. C. Gibson, minister for air, announced in the House.

Pressed for details, Col. Gibson said the force would consist of 10 squadrons—four bomber, three transport, two fighter and one of reconnaissance.

He said he hesitated to predict with too much precision because Canada's commitments under international security arrangements had not been determined.

Plans called for an auxiliary force which would necessarily include a number of permanent force personnel to conduct training, maintain equipment and buildings and a reserve force of qualified personnel which, he hoped, would be called up for a period of training each year.

Speaking in the debate on the war expenditures appropriation, Mr. Gibson said the post-war air force will be organized in such a way that it will be "capable of rapid expansion, should the necessity arise."

Permanent strength of Canada's air force at the outbreak of war was only 3,984 officers and men, with 1,013 all ranks in the auxiliary. Peak strength during the war was 232,585, of which 17,412 were civilians.

Present strength of the air force stands at 124,052, made up of 27,510 overseas and 96,542 in Canada, of which 9,109 are civilians.

Mr. Gibson said the peace time force will be comprised of three parts, regular, auxiliary and reserves. It is the regular force that will consist of the 15,000 to 20,000 personnel.

The auxiliary force will be made up of squadrons based at strategic points throughout Canada, and will correspond to the militia units of the army.

These squadrons will provide opportunities for young men to qualify for their wings, or to secure training in ground crew trades.

The reserve will be comprised of qualified air and ground personnel who, in an emergency, will be recalled for further service. Like the auxiliary force members, they will continue their normal peace-time occupations.

In planning the post-war air force, Mr. Gibson said, arrangements are being made to perpetuate squadrons which took such an "important part in the downfall of Germany."

With the war over and demobilization continuing steadily, the air minister said the cost to operate the RCAF in the present fiscal year will be just over 50 per cent. of what it was during the fiscal year 1944-45.

Estimated cost for the present year is $708,187,116, while in the past fiscal year it was $1,060,000,000.

Ahead for the future the RCAF has established a division of research and development which will explore the new field of atomic energy and experiment in the sphere of cold weather operations.

In the same field a radio wave propagation unit has been established to find a means of combating radio black spots peculiar to Canada, so that contact may be maintained at all times on all wireless circuits.

He added that no decision had yet been reached as to the employment of women in the permanent force.

DEMOBILIZATION PLANS

LONDON.—Britain plans to demobilize approximately 1,500,000 service men and women by the end of this year and approximately 3,000,000 by the end of next June, Labor Minister George Isaacs disclosed.

FURTHER APPROPRIATIONS ARE REQUIRED TO CARRY ON WORK OF THE UNRRA

LONDON.—The United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration has spent in Canada the entire Canadian $77,000,000 contribution to its work, plus a further amount in United States funds which may total $25,000,000 to $30,000,000, Rolf Nugent, of the UNRRA bureau of supplies, said at a press conference.

He said he could only give the expenditures in Canada in United States funds roughly as the figures were subject to adjustment later.

Various countries in the international relief agency made contributions on the basis of one per cent. of their national income. Although there were unexhausted funds in many countries under the first contribution, UNRRA already was faced with shortages of funds in areas where goods could be obtained.

In the United States the appropriation by the home government was committed to the bill and unless

NEW MAIL SERVICE

For Canadians Detained In Reception Camps On West Coast

OTTAWA.—Defence headquarters said arrangements have been made to provide a special mail service to liberated Canadian prisoners of war during their brief stay in a reception camp on the west coast while being prepared for the last leg of the journey home.

Once official advice has been received that a former prisoner is en route home friends and relatives should address mail thus:

Service number, rank, name, Canadian Liberated P.W., Vancouver M.P.O. 1106, B.C.

The department said it is recommended that mail addressed in this way be prepaid for air mail service so that it will reach the west coast without delay.

Where possible, mail would be delivered immediately the ship docks. If this was not possible, it would be delivered at reception camps.

Arrangements were being made whereby the men, while at the reception camp, may forward mail by air without charge to themselves.

ROUSING WELCOME

Given Canada's New Destroyer Crescent At Channel Islands Harbor

ST. HILIER, Jersey, Channel Islands.—Canada's newest warship, the destroyer Crescent, received a rousing welcome here when it steamed into St. Hilier harbor for an official visit to Jersey, the Channel Island which was occupied by the Germans until May of this year.

The Crescent's company went ashore at St. Hilier and marched through the island capital's narrow streets to the town hall for an official reception. Later they made a 25-mile bus tour of the island while hundreds of Jersey citizens visited the ship.

In the evening, Jersey's theatres were thrown open to the Canadian sailors and a dance was held in their honor.

HOLIDAY TRAVEL

May Lift Restrictions On Reduced Railway Fares

OTTAWA.—Transport Minister Chevrier said in the commons he hoped to be able to announce in mid-January the lifting of restrictions on reduced railway fares.

There would be no immediate removal, however, and the whole matter would be reviewed some-time after Jan. 1, 1946.

He explained that during wartime it had been found necessary "in order to assure the maximum use of railway facilities for the prosecution of the war" to suspend or curtail certain reduced fares for holiday and excursion travel.

SECRET MISSION

Movement To Britain Of German War Prisoners

OTTAWA.—Interment officials here maintained utmost secrecy in connection with the movement to Britain of eight German prisoners of war.

A Reuters despatch from Southampton, England, said the eight "closely-guarded" prisoners landed from the French liner Pasteur when she docked from Quebec.

An interment official commented: "All I can say is that eight German prisoners have been sent overseas for a certain undisclosed mission." He declined to elaborate.

DRASTIC LAW

Would Wipe Out All Nazi Ownership In U.S. Occupation Zone

BERLIN.—Gen. Eisenhower's military government said the drafting of a drastic new law which would wipe out all Nazi ownership and Nazi control of German business in the United States occupation zone.

In effect, the decree would make it "unlawful for any person who was at any time a member of the Nazi party or its affiliate organizations to own, control, manage or supervise any business enterprise or possess an interest therein."

Known as "Law No. 10", the new measure was expected to give Germans in the United States zone until Jan. 1 to carry out liquidation of Nazi business interests. It is a companion decree to "Law No. 8", announced recently, which forbade employment of Nazis in business except as "labor."

WASHINGTON.—A group of outstanding German scientists and technicians are being brought to the United States on a voluntary basis and under army supervision to aid in military research the war department announced. It did not disclose the identity of the scientists.

SHORTAGE OF PAPER

British Papers May Have To Curtail Use Of Newspaper

LONDON.—The Observer said in an article that the cabinet has decided to suspend newspaper imports from Canada due to lack of dollars although it is still possible that the Canadian government may be able to advance counter-proposals to avert such a question.

The Sunday newspaper said: "If the situation remains as at present, however, the public will have to reckon with the continuance of wartime four-page daily newspapers for an indefinite period."

The article said if the government reversed its decision not to buy newspaper from Canada there was an obvious danger that the material might have been sold to the United States.

RUSSIA HONORS CRERAR

LONDON.—The Order of Kutuzov First Class will be awarded to Gen. H. D. G. Crerar, who commanded the First Canadian Army, the Moscow radio announced. The award is made for "high achievements by the Canadian military during the war against the common enemy of the United Nations—Hitlerite Germany." The announcement said.

270 German Prisoners In Elre Have Been Deported

DUBLIN.—With the exception of nine escapees, Elre has seen the last of its 270 German prisoners who were leading a life of luxury in the country.

They were German sailors and airmen who landed in Elre during the war and now have left for Germany at the request of British military authorities. They will be confined to the British occupied zone of Germany.

Before leaving they petitioned the government asking permission to remain in Elre but the petition was not granted. They are leaving the best of country in Europe for what may be the worst during the coming winter.

Fear that they might be sent to the Russian zone drove nine of them to break parole and these now are being sought by military police of five countries.

CANADIAN NAVY

Strength Will Be Reduced To 10,000 By Next March

OTTAWA.—Strength of the Royal Canadian navy which stood at 36,000 at April 3, 1945, will be reduced to about 10,000 by March 31, 1946, Defence Minister Abbott told the commons while presenting naval estimates for the current fiscal year.

Mr. Abbott said the 10,000 figure would include the members of the permanent force supplemented by members of the reserve who engaged for service during a two-year period.

LESS TIME LOST

Fewer Strikes In Canada Compared To Last Year

OTTAWA.—Time lost as a result of strikes in the first eight months of this year was 63 per cent. less than in the corresponding period of 1944, the labor department reported.

Figures to the end of August showed 128 strikes involving 44,349 workers with a time loss of 170,293 man-days, compared with 157 strikes with 66,509 workers involving a loss of 464,594 man-days for the first eight months of 1944.

OTTAWA.—The 14-bushel per acre limitation on wheat deliveries is being lifted for the current crop year, but the action is expected to make only some 15,000,000 additional bushels available for export, Trade Minister MacKinnon announced in the commons.

Decision to lift the marketing restrictions, imposed during the war years because of limited markets, was made as a result of the size of this year's crop and export demands.

The average yield per acre in western Canada this year was not large and most of the surplus from the 1945 crop would be marketed within the 14-bushel limitation. However, there were some areas and many producers who would have wheat in excess of the 14-bushel limitation.

The announcement means that prairie farmers can market wheat with no restriction on the total amount they want to sell. It will make it possible for farmers in Saskatchewan with heavy crops up to 30 and 40 bushels to the acre to market more than 14 bushels per acre. The lifting of the restriction will not mean much in the western part of Saskatchewan where drought has resulted in poor crops but it will enable farmers in eastern Saskatchewan to sell more than 14 bushels per acre. Dr. F. H. Auld, deputy minister of agriculture for the Saskatchewan government, said.

"In view of the efforts which this country is making to provide food for Europe, the government feels that if a little more wheat can be provided by lifting marketing restrictions for the present crop year, this action should be taken," Mr. MacKinnon said.

During the present crop year Canada expects to export about 325,000,000 bushels of wheat, leaving between 75,000,000 to 100,000,000 bushels of wheat on hand at July 31, 1946. Since VE-day more than half of the wheat going into Europe has been Canadian wheat, and that percentage will be fully maintained during the present crop year, said Mr. MacKinnon.

OTTAWA.—President Truman told congress he would initiate discussions with Canada and Great Britain, "our associates in the discovery," looking toward international co-operation in the control of atomic energy and called on the world to outlaw the atomic bomb.

His plans were outlined in a message to congress asking for legislation setting up an "atomic energy commission" with extraordinary powers to direct and control atomic energy experimentation in the United States, from the viewpoint of its potential value as a benefit to mankind.

It was assumed here that Mr. Truman's views on the international aspect of atomic energy coincided in a large measure with those expressed by Prime Minister King when he discussed international affairs with the president at the White House.

The atomic bomb did not win the war, the president said. "But it certainly shortened the war. It saved the lives of untold thousands of American and Allied soldiers who would have been killed in battle."

The new discovery was too powerful and potentially dangerous to deal with in an ordinary way, the president said. There was no time to wait until the United Nations organization was functioning and able to deal with it.

In the international field, the president said he would initiate discussions with Canada and Great Britain and then with "other nations" in an effort to "effect agreement on the conditions under which co-operation might replace rivalry in the field of atomic power."

At a press conference the president was asked if he had talked about the atomic secret with Mr. King in the latter's White House visit.

The president said they had talked on every subject of interest to the United States and Canada but that he was not at liberty to reveal any detail.

The president stressed that—temporarily at least—the secret of the atomic bomb would not be disclosed to others.

Brides' Committee Plan Individual Receptions

Mrs. Jerry Seaman Has Ambitious Program Lined Up: All Brides to Get Warm Welcome to Coleman.

On Monday evening Chairman Mrs. Jerry Seaman and her war brides' committee met to draft an ambitious program with which they hope to make every war bride's arrival in Coleman an unforgettable one.

It is proposed to give each bride a shower. Prior to the bride's arrival the mother-in-law will be invited to a social hour with the brides' committee. At this social hour she will be asked to draft a list of friends whom she would like to be present. In addition she will be asked for the names of those whom she believes would undertake the responsibility of providing foodstuffs for the shower.

The war brides' committee do not want the responsibility of making up the guest lists, believing that omissions are more likely to occur than would be in the case of the mother-in-law drafting the list. The committee are also aware that it is very probable that some ladies not on the guest list would like to attend the shower. Such ladies are asked to contact Mr. Seaman, who will see that their names are included in the official list.

Shortly after the bride arrives in Coleman she will be visited by the entire war brides' committee who will extend to her a welcome on behalf of Coleman citizens. It is proposed to engage the IOOF hall for all showers. The brides' committee will take care of the prizes for the shower and plan on presenting each bride with a suitable gift.

THE CHALLENGE

OF AN EMPTY PLATE*

* BEEF - 140,000,000 lbs. still to be shipped.

The United Kingdom and liberated Europe rely on for Canada 225,000,000 lbs. this year.

We supplied only 85,000,000 lbs. to August 31.

* PORK - 100,000,000 lbs. still to be shipped.

The United Kingdom and liberated Europe rely on Canada for 450,000,000 lbs. this year.

We supplied only 350,000,000 lbs. to August 31.

* CANNED MEAT - 70,000,000 lbs. still to be shipped.

The United Kingdom and liberated Europe rely on Canada for 114,000,000 lbs. this year.

We supplied only 44,000,000 lbs. to August 31.

In most liberated European countries, there is a desperate shortage of meat.

As a great food-producing nation, Canada must, can—and will—help to meet the emergency.

The job will not be finished at the year's end. Food scarcities in Europe will continue until the next harvest.

This year, Europe is relying on Canada for a minimum of 789 million pounds of beef, pork and canned meat.

Up to the end of August, only 479 million pounds had been sent.

How soon can we bridge the gap?

Livestock marketings are normally at their heaviest in the last four months of the year.

If we are to help feed the hungry peoples of devastated Europe, this is the time to make our greatest effort.

To do our part, we must reduce our own consumption of meat and also assure that everyone in Canada gets a fair share.

That is why rationing is necessary.

MEAT RATIONING ADDS TO EVERYONE'S WORK

The producer who slaughters, the retailer who sells, the consumer who buys and eats—they all play a vital part.

AS A CONSUMER, HERE IS HOW YOU CAN CO-OPERATE

1. Try to plan your meat purchases before leaving home by determining what cuts you intend to buy and their approximate weights.
2. Make sure you have enough valid coupons and tokens to cover your proposed purchases by referring to the Consumer Coupon Value Chart and the Coupon and Token Calculator. Copies may be obtained from your Local Ration Board or Ration Branch.
3. Know the dates your "M" coupons become valid.
4. Do not buy more meat than you really need.
5. Avoid shopping at rush hours.
6. Be patient. Remember—your butcher may have inexperienced help.
